All communications intended for this Department should be addressed to the Society Editor, ALTA CALIFORNIA.

Society has not lacked attractions for the week just past, for there have been weddings galore, new attractions at the theatres, Albany, with her rich, mellow voice, to delight the music-loving populace, and the ever lovely floral show at the Lyceum, which each year seems to grow in popularity. Apart from the exquisite beauty of the flowers, the lovely and gracious ladies having the affair in charge would of itself be an inducement to attend these gatherings. Nightly concerts of merit have added to the attractions, and, calling to mind the words of an olden verse...

U. K. R.

Several friends of Mrs. Pendleton assembled at the Hotel Pleasanton on Wednesday evening last to engage in the game of progressive U. K. R., which is somewhat similar to progressive euchre, with these important distinctions: There is no head or foot table. The couple getting five points first claims a game and announces the word "game" in a voice audible all over the room, whereupon the manager blows a whistle and the players stop for that session. Each couple at each table which is ahead in points scores one game. At the end of the evening, if the games are even, the points are considered, the highest number of points winning. The scoring is done by means of holes punched by the general director and scorer on cards kept for the purpose. The trump at each table is also indicated by cards specially marked with the character of the trump suit, so that one will be the spade table, another the heart table, and so on. When a game is declared, two whistles sound to "change table," and the players are then gradually crowded out of left behind, while the winners "hold the fort."

The prizes are distributed as follows: The parties who have won fifteen games count their points, and the player taking the highest number of points at the end of the game takes the next highest number of games takes second prize, and so on.
